The Law Regulating Newspapers and Periodicals.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid, the subscribers are responsible for all the numbers sent.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bills, and ordered their papers discontinued.
4. The Courts have decided that a refusal to take a newspaper or periodical from the Post Office without notifying the publisher, and the payment of all arrearages is prima facie evidence of fraud.
5. Subscribers to newspapers or periodicals removing, are liable to pay so long as the paper or periodical may be sent to the residence of the party at the time of subscription, unless notice is sent of such removal to the publication office.

PATENT SOLID
COTTON BELTING!
HAVING received the Agency for the sale of this Belting, the subscriber would call the attention of Mill Owners, Machinists, and others interested in the use of an efficient and cheap Belt to samples which may be seen at his counting-room, Lower Steamboat (Coe's) Wharf.
This Belting is formed by weaving several layers of Duck solid in one body, and like leather it partakes of the strain in all its parts, and gives a gain of power over every other kind in passing the pulley. It is especially adapted for open Belts and for heavy and main Belts, while it elasticity allows it to be used on very small pulleys, and where quick speed is required. It can be made of any desired length without lap or joint. The cost of this Belting being about one-half that of leather, will recommend it to the attention of every customer. Any width, from 1 to 23 inches, furnished, and extra width and thickness made to order.

SLATE!
THE Bangor and Piscataquis Slate Company having completed their arrangements for the manufacture of SLAB SLATE, are prepared to receive orders for any dimensions which may be required, from a "paper weight" to a "Billiard Table."
The endless variety of uses to which this article may be applied, will readily occur to the artisan, and indeed to every observer of the progress of modern improvement in the arts of life.
Counters for Shops, Shelves, Hearths, Tables for Printers, Black Boards for Schools, are among the many purposes for which this article will be in demand.
The peculiar texture or grain of the stone from the Brownville quarry, being entirely free from those gnarls, or cross grains, which are apt to disfigure almost all other slates, renders the surface of the manufactured article smooth and true; and it is insisted, and probably will not be denied, that it is the best Slate in the known world.
Having recently filled an order for Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde, of the Whig and Courier, they have kindly permitted their Tables to be examined at their office.
The Company can also supply almost any quantity and size of Roofing Slate, and solicit orders in any of the branches of their business. (Specimens at their office. Apply to C. B. ABBOT, Lower Steamboat (Coe's) Wharf, Bangor, Maine.

MY WIFE AND I.

'O dear, I wish I were rich!'

This remark was extracted from my wife (as an obstinate molar might be extracted by a dentist) by the contemplation of a large opening in the toe of little Persey's stocking, which she had been trying in vain to devise some mode of closing, without destroying the symmetry of the garment, while a pair of similar articles of various sizes and patterns, lay at her elbow, as much in need of mending as an old rake's habits. There they lay, seven pairs of little stockings, whose their seven daily occupants were snugly snoozing in bed, forgetful of the many weary stitches their little feet had caused, and all around, on tables and chairs, was scattered a promiscuous assortment of juvenile aprons and dresses, jackets and breeches, each one bearing its owner's mark, in the shape of rips and rents.

'I wish I were rich!' repeated my wife.

There was a strength and heartiness in the tone and manner which left no doubt of her sincerity, and in an instant my mind went back some twenty years, to the time when we had been rich—rich in our young love, rich in our mutual dependence, and rich in the bright hopes which not only gilded but fairly plated the future all over with twenty carat plate at least—as together we looked down the long vista of coming years, fair flowers of joy around our feet, ripe fruits of happiness over our heads, the richest of all riches, contentment in our hearts, and flour at only five dollars a barrel.

Almost twenty years ago those soft hazel eyes that now beam with tender, matronly love, first told the story of that love which those rosy lips, (their bloom has not yet faded) confirmed; and that fair, round face, that has grown fairer and rounder year by year, first lay upon my breast in maiden trustfulness.

We did not fall in love, nor walk into it, nor glide into it, but we took to it by instinct as ducks take to the water, and we were married, with about as definite an idea of the modes and means of meeting our current expenses as a raw Irishman has of Egyptian hieroglyphics, or a charcoal pedlar of honesty.

There must be a special Providence which watches over fools and young married people.

In point of worldly possessions we commenced with nothing, and have had it ever since; for, that with the increased expense of living, and our success in adding to the census returns, each year finds us as far from the possession of a respectable competency as its predecessor.—Financially, we have scrambled along in a helter skelter way, tumbling into little puddles of debt from time to time, with now and then a long interval of exemption, to be followed by a new tumble and scramble for safety. Until now, on this cold Saturday night in January, my wife and I sat cozily by our cheerful fire, she with a load of mended and to-be-mended stockings on her mind, and I, ostensibly reading, trying to solve the great problem of the relation between supply and demand: at least, so far as to make my own weekly supplies cover the weekly demand of my wife, children, the grocer, and the landlord. And so I sit, buried in thought, now brightened by remembrances of early happiness, and now darkened by shades of unpaid January bills, which load my desk, making the demand for the great staple, money, far exceed the supply, thereby, according to our best political economists, enhancing its value.

Meantime my wife, still laboring under the weight of the stockings, says, for the third time, with increased fervor and a slight degree of asperity, as though demanding a reply.

'Oh dear! dear! I wish I were rich.'

'Riches, my love, take to themselves wings and fly away,' I replied, with the air of one who had seen myriads of tender young dollars put on their pin feathers, become fully fledged, and soar away to unknown regions like a flock of wild geese, leaving not even the smell of money behind.

'Well, if they do, they must go to roost somewhere, and I don't see why some of them can't settle here as well as elsewhere,' said my wife, as she commenced on a fresh stocking; and then added; with a slight dash of acidity, 'There's no danger of our riches flying away!'

'No, my dear, the wealth of loving hearts, of unstained consciences, and contented dispositions is a permanent investment, and not at all prone to aerial flights. These are your only true riches. With these, you are richer than Croesus; without them poor indeed.'

'That's all very well, but that kind of property don't constitute a legal tender. You can't pay the grocer with consciences and dispositions, however pure and contented. They don't go half as far as promises, for I've known you to make those last a year. But speaking of the grocer, reminds me that I thought I saw the bottom of the flour barrel this morning.'

Now I knew in an instant that there wasn't flour enough in that barrel to make a homœopathic biscuit, for I had had a hint of its state the day before, in the shape of an inquiry from my wife; 'What is flour worth now?' expressed in a tone intended to indicate that she had no more interest in the matter than she had in the number of statute miles between the earth and the moon.

It is a pleasant little fiction of hers, that a delicate hint, in relation to the consumptive state of that important ingredient in domestic economy, falls more lightly upon the ear of the moneyless, than the plain and simple, though appalling statement, 'The flour barrel is empty;' and she will resort to all manner of expedients for bringing the case to my mind rather than state it in plain English. In fact, I have sometimes thought of teaching her to say it in Spanish, and thus remove a little of its harshness, but as she has no aptness for any tongue, except her own, I have abandoned the idea.

The purchase of a barrel of flour is an event in our household economy not to be treated lightly. It requires preparation and consideration. In the first place, a certain sum of money is to be provided to meet the emergency, for, whatever latitude the grocer will allow his minor matters, when you talk to him of your flour you must produce the quid pro quo, or there is no trade.

The next point to be decided is the selection of the 'brand.' This leads to a friendly interchange of views between the head of the home department, which always results in my being commissioned to purchase the highest priced article in the market, and a caution to avoid all attempts at false economy by investing in a cheaper quality. In my younger days, I once made a purchase of a barrel of second quality (as the grocer called it,) to see if my wife would know the difference; and I believe I have had the biscuit that were made from it thrown at me ever since.

You should see my wife when she assists at the opening of the new barrel, and its snowy treasures are disclosed to her gratified gaze.—Smiles dimple her rosy cheeks, and pleasure sparkles in her eyes. How tender she lifts each dipperful from its receptacle, examines it with the eye of a judge, and pronounces its quality with the air of an expert! And what a glow of housewifely satisfaction mantles her face, when the first baking confirms her judgment!

And then as, day by day, she descends deeper and deeper into its recesses, each dipperful, snowy though it be, leaves a shade upon her brow until at last, the flour and the smiles and dimples disappear together.

As I sit reading of an evening, I can hear that wooden dipper thumping at the staves, or gently scraping the bottom of the barrel as it descends in search of the wherewithal for the bread of the coming day, and I know that my wife is intimating by these means the necessity of a fresh supply as plainly as though she told me in so many words, for she knows that I can hear every thump. And by and by she comes in looking as demure as a kitten, and none but the initiated would ever dream that she had an empty flour barrel on her mind. But the next day brings a fresh barrel, fresh smiles and dimples, and a renewed depletion of the already attenuated purse. The smiles and dimples are always cheap at the price, even if flour is not.

As I meditated on this momentous subject, I could see by the knitting of her brow and the increased vigor with which she applied herself to her weekly task, that my wife's financial aspiration was still working in her mind, and knowing by long experience, that confined thoughts, like explosive gasses, must have vent, and fearing that some violent remark might be shot at me, like a pellet from a gun, I replied:

'True, my dear, I know that the grocer will only be satisfied with gold or its equivalent, which he is much better calculated to appreciate than purity of intention and kindness of soul, and fortunately for him, it is much more plentiful in the market, though scarce enough with us. But for all that we have an old treasures, if we did but know it.'

'They must be untold, for I never heard of them before. If you have such an abundance, I wish you would spare me enough to buy that black silk dress you promised me so long ago.' It is not to be inferred from this remark that my wife is prone to extravagance in her tastes or habits. She is usually content with plain and modest attire. She has never hidden herself in the recesses of a whalebone, pyramid, nor submitted to the modern species of female cooperage, for, as she playfully remarks, 'Any body can see that I am a tub without being hooped.' (She weighs two hundred and one pounds avoirdupois.) No unpaid milliner's bills haunt her waking hours (nor mine.) No needy dressmakers rise up in judgment against her. Her bonnet is much too large for our youngest daughter, aged eight years, and really seems designed for use as well as ornament; and from my long acquaintance with her, I am satisfied that she has something in her head worth protecting, unlike those ladies who patronize curtailed bonnets with more ribbon than crown, and more curtain than comfort.

She fully agrees with me when I lecture our young female friends on the extravagance of the age, although she contends that the men are as much to be blamed for it as the women. Of course I never assent to this proposition; and that leads to a friendly argument, from which, in my opinion, I always gain the advantage—though I must confess, that I am occasionally overborne by a torrent of words, especially when some friendly neighbor espouses my wife's side of the question. In such cases I beat a hasty retreat, and watch my opportunity for a new attack upon the position of the enemy under more favorable auspices.

My wife detests flounces (because she is too stout to wear them) has no hankering after 'moire antique,' and knows only of 'Honiton,' by having seen it mentioned in our daily papers. To be sure she don't believe all the criticisms upon the fashions which she sees in that paper, and she even goes so far as to say that she has no idea that the editor himself believes them.—I think she is hardly just to the editor—a very clever fellow by-the-way, who never meddles with anything but politics, except Church matters, ladies' dresses, and fish—and who never gets into trouble as long as he sticks to the politics and fish.

But to return to the black silk dress. Some years ago, (I don't care to remember how many) under the influence of an excess of affection and a delusion in regard to my financial prospects, I made a rash promise to purchase such an article for her especial use and adornment; but had coupled the promise with the important proviso, 'some time.' We had previously canvassed the relative merits of calicoes, cashmeres, silks, and had decided that one good silk dress was worth half a dozen of any of the others, not only for its present purpose, but as being more available in its later stages for the decoration of the young scions of our house; and a sly hint was thrown out that a spare breadth out of the skirt might be very useful in reducing any coat of mine that might happen to stand in need of that operation.

The 'some time' before alluded to, has not yet arrived, and from present appearances it is as far off as when the promise was made. Still it lingers in my wife's memory, and she occasionally brings it to mind among, I fear, many other unfulfilled promises.

'In regard to the dress, you may depend upon having it 'some time,' but the treasures of which I was speaking are not exactly available for that purpose at present,' I replied; but I can easily convince you that we are possessed of them.—Are there not seven rosy-cheeked cherubs (at least you call them so when they are not in mischief) now sleeping in happy unconsciousness of money and its attendant evils, each one of them worth his weight in gold? I've heard you say so many a time. Now at a moderate estimate they will average fifty pounds apiece. Even California gold is worth two hundred dollars a pound, which according to simple multiplication, makes seventy thousand dollars' worth of those little heavenly bodies alone.' 'Nonsense, Persy—'

'Oh! but it isn't nonsense. There it is, figured out according to your own estimate, and a very pretty little sum it makes to begin the world with. Now, my dear, what is my love worth?'

This was a poser. My wife looked up in a haze of blank astonishment as her mind grasped the idea, and I trembled for fear she might say 'nothing,' and thus overturn the whole groundwork of my theory. But as soon as she swallowed the idea and mentally digested it, she replied—

'Why don't you ask me what the air is worth? for I could dispense with one as well as the other.'

I thanked my wife for the compliment, and congratulated myself that she had drawn no worse comparison between my love and the air; and I continued—

'Well, then, what do you consider the air worth?'

'I shan't answer any such foolish question; for, if you go on with your calculations, you'll make us out millionaires.'

'That's what I intend to do; and I think I am safe in putting down the love at a hundred thousand. Then there is my honor, which is worth at least as much as the love—'

'I've no doubt of it,' interrupted my wife.

'For you wouldn't value the one without the other. So there you have the sum total of three items alone—cherubs, seventy thousand; love a hundred thousand; and honor as much more making the snug sum of more than a quarter of a million of dollars, to say nothing of other items that might be mentioned, and which would, perhaps, double the amount; besides cash on hand amounting to one dollar and seventeen cents.'

I paused here, for my wife to appreciate the full force of my reasoning (she is a little slow at figures), and when she had time to turn the whole subject in her mind, I asked—

'What have you to say to that?'

'All I have to say to that,' replied my wife, 'is that I wouldn't advise you to set up a carriage on the strength of your property. And if I thought we were worth a quarter of that sum, I wouldn't mend such a looking stocking as this, saying which, she held up the stocking of our eldest girl, minus the heel and two-thirds of the toe, with a large rent near the top of the leg. 'And then look at that, and that, and that,' she continued, as she successively presented for my inspection the various articles which constitute the juvenile wardrobe; and I must confess that, seen through that medium, my imposing array of figures seemed scarcely large enough to fill one of the smallest rents among the multitude. Still I fondly hoped that my calculations had a tendency to raise my wife's spirits, and I was unwilling that she should sink back into that slough of darning needles and yarn. So I continued the subject.

'Clothes, my dear, especially in the case of children, are a mere matter of form, a blind adherence to the customs of society. If it cost more to wear shreds and patches than whole garments—if rips and rents could be rendered fashionable, all the world would be out at the elbows. But though society turns up its nose at last year's fashions—though love looks askance at a steady lover, and even the Church puts ban on the threadbare coat, you and I can jog on our way regardless of frowns and favors, conscious of that hidden treasure which gilds and brightens our earthly existence.

'And then, again, compare our condition with that of our first parents, when they had 'notice to quit' from the Great Landlord, and first commenced housekeeping on their own account.—Their wardrobe was extremely limited, and I've no doubt Eve would have been very thankful for a ninepenny calico, and Adam would not have scorned good satinet, even though the cut of the garments had been a few months old.—For however rural a fig leaf suit might appear, it is not exactly adapted for general use, especially with the thermometer at zero. And I don't think that a lady of your weight in the community would appear at advantage in that primitive style of dress.'

'Perseverance!' exclaimed my wife, as she colored with indignation at the idea, and laid down the last pair of the stockings, preparatory to seeking her nightly rest.

She never calls me 'Perseverance' except when she is astonished or indignant; and I knew by the tone of her voice that it would be useless to pursue the subject at present. So, winding up my argument and the little wooden clock that graces our mantle, I addressed myself to slumber, while that murmured aspiration floated on the midnight air from my wife's half-opened lips—

'Oh dear! I wish I were rich!'

Betting upon a Dead Certainty.

The following story will bear repetition. It is from an interesting book of East Indian reminiscences:

At seven o'clock the dinner was served up, and a better one was never given in Calcutta; but as every pleasure must come to an end, so this excellent dinner was at last finished. The dessert was served up, and the hookahs began to emit their guttural notes. Many were the subjects broached and got rid of; many the toasts which enlivened the fashionable feast.

At length by most skillful manoeuvering and with infinite tact, Macaulay brought the beauty of the new tables on the tapis. Every one admired them, and felt grateful to them for having so lately supported the rich dinner of their host.

"They are of the finest mahogany I ever saw," said Major Briscoe.

"They are perfect," said another. "I never saw any so well proportioned in my life. I must have some made like them."

"They are too high," chimed in Charley Macaulay, with affected indifference—"just a little too high. Don't you think so, Gordon?"

"On the contrary," replied the host, "if anything, I consider them too low."

"You are mistaken my dear fellow; I have an excellent eye, and I am sure I am right. No table should exceed two feet six, and these are at least one inch higher."

"You are in error; they are not more than two feet and a half."

"Don't bet, James, don't bet; for I am sure of the fact. I tell you I cannot be deceived; my eye is always correct."

"Not bet! If the tables were not my own, and consequently I should bet on certainty, I'd lay you a lac of rupees that they are not more than thirty inches in height."

"Oh, if you are willing, I will make the bet, but remember, gentlemen, I tell you beforehand, that I am certain of the fact. I say those tables are at least thirty-one inches from the ground."

"Done! for a lac of rupees!" cried out Gordon.

"Done," re-echoed Charley.

The wager was duly registered. A servant was ordered to bring in a yard measure, when Macaulay turned around with an air of triumph, and said:

"You may save yourself the trouble of measuring!—ha! ha!" and he chuckled with delight. "I warned you fairly that I bet on a certainty, and so the bet must be binding, James."

"I stand to my bet," said Gordon.

"Well, then, pay me the money. I measured the tables this morning while you were shaving, and here is their memorandum of height—thirty-one inches exactly."

And the Colonel burst into a roar of laughter as he produced his pocket book with the memorandum.

"I know you did," said James, "I saw you do so, in my looking-glass."

The Colonel started.

"Yes, I saw you do it; and as soon as you had gone away, knowing well your object, I had an inch sawed off every leg; so, for once, my very knowing friend, the tables are turned."

The roar that shook the table would have drowned Niagara. Charley Macauly left Calcutta the next day, ten thousand pounds sterling poorer than he was the day he arrived; and what was still worse, the very youngest ensigns in the army quizzed him forever afterwards.—Perhaps he was richer in the end, however, for it was his last bet.

TALL CORN STORY.—The Boston Herald tells the following:

A friend desires us to acknowledge the receipt of a sample of seed corn from the Island of Cuba. Said corn was planted in a garden in Cambridgeport on the 2d of June last, having been soaked in water over night. Some brush wood was placed over hills to keep the chickens out until the corn had a chance to sprout. The first day, the seed showed itself above ground; the second day it was a struggle whether the brush-wood, some three inches high, or the corn should have the ascendency; the third day, the corn had nearly overshadowed the brush-wood, and it was with difficulty the latter could be disentangled from the corn. And so the corn has kept on growing ever since, until it has now reached the second story of our friend's house,

Colonization in Central America.

The proposition made by Mr Blair of Missouri for providing a means of colonizing emancipated slaves in Central or South America, is attracting considerable attention in the West, and is favorably regarded by the Republicans of that section, where the question, "What do you propose to do with the emancipated slaves?" is felt to be one of especial moment The plan of Mr Blair is one to which there seems to be no valid objection, and we hope it will have the favorable consideration of our friends in Congress Mr Doolittle of Wisconsin has already introduced a proposition into the Senate of the United States, embraced in the following preamble and resolution

Whereas, The numerous disabilities to which free persons of color of African descent are subjected in many of the free States have made it desirable on the part of large numbers of them to seek elsewhere a more favorable field for their labor and enterprise, and whereas the same class of persons is regarded with still greater disfavor in the slave-holding States from considerations deemed so controlling that further emancipation in many of them has been prohibited by law unless the persons emancipated shall at the same time removed beyond the jurisdiction of the State and in some of them the graver question is seriously entertained whether persons of African descent who are now free shall not again be reduced to slavery if they continue to remain within their jurisdiction and whereas in Yucatan and Central and South America there are vast regions most uninhabited and of the most beautiful and productive countries in the world in a climate well adapted to the constitution of the African race to develop its greatest power and highest activity therefore—

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Relations inquire into the expediency of acquiring by treaty in Yucatan Central or South America, the rights and privileges of settlement and of citizenship for the benefit of such persons of color of African descent as may voluntarily desire to emigrate from the United States, and from themselves into State or States to which they emigrate the United States, in consideration of the commercial advantages of free trade with such colony or colonies, making and securing the necessary and proper engagements to maintain them in the enjoyment of the rights and privileges acquired by such treaty or treaties

As we remarked above, the subject is now attracting attention in some of the Western States, —and is brought forward as one of the political issues for the next campaign We copy the following remarks from a recent article in the Chicago Press and Tribune It says truly

Though this question has not yet received the attention it merits it is becoming of more and more consequence every day, and in just the proportion that the Democracy clamor for the re-opening of the Slave Trade, the acquisition of Cuba and the annexation of territory for further slave occupation, will it rise in importance Two undeniable facts establish the wisdom and feasibility of the scheme the prime necessity of getting rid of the major portion if not the whole of our slave population, and the adaptedness of Central and South America in soil and climate, to the colored races and those races only * *

The alarming natural increase of the slave population of the South, taken in connection with the mad project for re-opening the African Slave Trade suggests the grave inquiry, What shall be done to keep down this dangerous element which is growing in our midst to such unmanageable proportions? It is an undoubted fact that the laws of numerical increase which are swelling the black race in the United States, will not be suspended to accommodate our peril. On the contrary, those persons who have a qualified supervision over the matter, are exercising their ingenuity, like patriarchal herdsmen, to double and quadruple their stock of insurrectionary power, by every means at their command, decent and indecent * * *

No future event can be calculated on with more absolute certainty than a mighty social convulsion in the Southern half of the Union, unless some step is taken to check the increase of the servile race The nature of things is not to be thwarted History is not to be cheated out of her dues It is only a question of time, and the longer the solution of the problem is postponed by compromises the more fearful will be the ultimate catastrophe Nor is the question limited to checking the increase of slaves merely "Emancipation and deportation" (in the language of Mr Jefferson) are the sole and sovereign cure of the evil which threatens us

THE EAGLES IN BOSTON Boston, Sept 14 —Eagle Engine Company, No 8, of Bangor, accompanied by the Bangor Cornet Band, arrived this morning and were received at the wharf by a number of their friends and former members of this city, and escorted to their guests to the Hancock House, where they breakfasted —Their beautiful engine was on exhibition in Court Square They paraded through some of the principal streets, and left for Manchester at 1 o'clock

VERMONT ELECTION The vote, for Hall, (Republican) in 166 towns foots up 24,086, and Saxe 11,050 Gov Hall's majority thus far is thirteen thousand, lacking 14 votes. If the remaining towns vote as they did last year, Gov Hall's majority will be sixteen thousand five hundred It is likely to be larger than that.

In Maine Gov Morrill, Republican, invited Mr Smith, his competitor, to take the field with him Mr Smith declined on account of sickness in his family, and afterwards went to making speeches alone This reminds us of Sheridan's excuse in declining the company of an undesirable associate in taking a walk after a shower, viz it "had cleared up enough for one, but not enough for two" Mr Smith's family were well enough for him to stump alone, but were altogether too feeble to have him go with Gov Morrill —Boston Journal

The Election.

Our list of returns for Governor, now includes 284 towns as below—being an addition of 100 towns since yesterday This embraces more than three-fourths of the vote of the State

Gov Morrill, in these 284 towns, has a majority of 10,853. Last year we had in the same towns, a majority of 7888 Net gain 2405 — The majority in the whole State will be what we estimated on Monday night—about ELEVEN THOUSAND

Lowell, Passadumkeag, &c—Joseph Porter
Patten, &c—Ira D Fish.

We shall give a list of Representatives in the other counties as soon as it is complete

The Republicans have gained from 10 to 20 members—leaving the democrats not more than 25 or 30 in a House of 151 members.

THE NET RESULT We have re-elected a Republican Governor by a majority of 11,000, the largest obtained since the vote given to Fremont.

We have elected THIRTY SENATORS out of THIRTY-ONE.

We have elected ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN REPRESENTATIVES, and probably ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY out of the ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE that compose the House.

We have elected Republican county officers in York, Cumberland, Oxford, Androscoggin, Franklin, Sagadahoc, Kennebec, Somerset, Piscataquis, Waldo, Penobscot, Hancock, Washington, and perhaps Lincoln also, thus securing THIRTEEN certainly, and perhaps FOURTEEN out of the fifteen counties.

It would be most indelicately greedy, says the Advertiser, for the Republicans to ask a more complete and exceptionless triumph

SOMERSET COUNTY We give returns from twenty towns in the county of Somerset, showing a very large aggregate gain upon the vote of last year The majority in the county in 1858 was but a trifle over 400, and this year it will fall but little short of a thousand The Representatives last year were divided between the Republicans and the Democrats, the former having five, the latter four This year the Republicans have carried eight certainly, and most probably the whole nine

FRANKLIN COUNTY We have no detailed returns from Franklin County—but a letter to the Advertiser states that the Republican ticket is elected by about 400 majority, or about the same as last year Thus the immense efforts of the hunkers in that county, to make capital out of the Rice slave case, have effected nothing at all against the Republican party

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY —We give returns from all but four small places Republican majority 400 A correspondent at Dover says, 'Our county ticket is elected by about 400 majority' Well done Piscataquis She keeps up her Republican vote to the mark of last year

OLD PENOBSCOT will foot up nearly EIGHTEEN HUNDRED Republican majority, with a gain of 800

"BLEEDING WALDO" gives us almost 1300—a noble gain of 800

HANCOCK will go up to about 1300—with a gain of over 800 She has always stood firm

WASHINGTON gains nobly, and takes a fixed stand as a Republican county Her majority is now from 800 to 400

The other counties have all done well The victory extends to every locality in the State

THE NEXT HOUSE. The House last year stood 108 Republicans to 48 Democrats From the gains made in nearly all the counties, it seems quite probable that the next House will contain 120 Republican members, and certainly not less than 115 We wish, says the Advertiser, that the Democracy could muster strength enough to make a respectable show in the House They will hardly have enough this year to order the calling of yeas and nays

THE SAN JUAN ISLAND DIFFICULTY The California steamer brings no later intelligence relative to the state of affairs at San Juan Island The Alta California, in commenting upon the matter, says that the affair gave Gov Douglas an excellent opportunity for making himself ridiculous, and he fully availed himself of it It is related by those who were present when he received the news of the occupation of the Island, that he stormed and blustered in the most alarming manner The council was convoked, and Admiral Baynes and other English officers were summoned before it Gov Douglas denounced Capt Pickett and his corps as a band of Yankee fillibusters, and ordered Admiral Baynes to proceed at once with his fleet, and execute summary vengeance upon them The veteran Baynes very quietly refused to execute the sanguinary orders of the bellicose Governor, stating that the question was one which could only be disposed of by the heads of the two Governments, while so far as the color of title was concerned, the Americans had certainly stronger authority for taking possession of the Island than the English The good sense of the Admiral effectually cooled the irritation of the Governor, and nothing more was heard of forcible measures. At last accounts, Gen Harney had ordered four companies of the Third Artillery to the Island to increase the force there.

OPENING OF NEW FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS —We take much pleasure in again calling the attention of our citizens to the announcement of Messrs. Farley Bliss & Co, of Boston, which will be found in another column of this paper. From the well known position of this house, as among the first merchants in the city, the superb and elegantly displayed stock which they exhibit, the very liberal, honorable and upright course which is the marked feature of this establishment, must present strong inducements to the merchant, as well as those of our citizens who may visit Boston, and have won for this establishment hosts of friends and patrons.

A GREAT RECEPTION.—Forty-four of the Philadelphia fire companies have voted to join in the reception of the Lynn firemen on the 30th inst There will be a procession in the evening, the route for which is eight miles long "A profuse display of fireworks will be made.

☞ It is said that 8000 people were present at the Camp Meeting at [illegible] last week

LOCAL AND MAINE ITEMS

☞ The Annual Exhibition of the Bangor Horticultural Society commences to-day, at City Hall, at 2 o'clock P M, instead of yesterday, as elsewhere reported The present is not a "plum season" nor a fruit season generally —but we trust there may be many good specimens exhibited, nevertheless—and a fair show generally It is desirable that all who intend to contribute to the exhibition should bring in their articles this forenoon, that all may be arranged before the hour of opening the exhibition

A HANDSOME TESTIMONIAL. Before leaving our city for Manchester, on Tuesday morning last, the Eagles presented to Ex-Foreman Fanno, a beautiful gold badge, in testimony of their appreciation of his constant efforts for the benefit and advancement of the company The engine is to be worked at Manchester under the direction of Mr Fanno

RUNAWAYS in our streets are too frequent for us to notice them, unless in remarkable cases—one or two of which have recently occurred On Tuesday afternoon, a fine horse belonging to Col Butler, became startled in some way, and ran down Hammond street. In attempting to turn into Central street both chaise and horse turned completely over, leaving the animal on his back with his heels elevated in the air, He was released by the bystanders from his novel position, and arose a quieter if not a wiser horse The damage was not great.

Yesterday morning, on Kenduskeag Bridge, near our office, a young horse belonging to Mr Owen Dugan, who lives on the Odlin road, became frightened at a pile of sheep-skins, and turning short, tipped over the wagon, breaking the thills, and throwing out Mr D and his wife, but without material injury Ten minutes afterwards, Mr Dugan having obtained another wagon, the same horse ran away with him in coming down Main street—and threw him out at the west end of the bridge, cutting his head and one leg pretty severely, but not dangerously The horse continued across the bridge, and smashed the wagon against a post near Mr Daniel White's store

☞ There is another wonderful specimen of miniature humanity in town It is a three months old baby, perfectly formed and developed, yet weighing but two pounds, according to the bills It is to be seen at the Avenue House

☞ In the Hermon, Carmel and Levant district, the Republican candidate, Joseph P Sinclair is elected after all, The report yesterday elected Mr Gilman the democrat by one majority The hunkers have therefore gained no representatives in this county We have fourteen out of the seventeen, the democrats two certainly, and probably three

WEST PENOBSCOT CATTLE SHOW.—There will be a grand cattle show at East Corinth on the 27th and 28th of the present month Mr Jacob Lovejoy has been engaged to deliver an address on the last day of the fair Our friends of Kenduskeag and Corinth are much interested and we think they will have an interesting time. Prof. L Slade has just finished a course of lectures in Kenduskeag on Agriculture, and speaks highly of the farmers in that part, and he takes this method of informing his friends that he will be present on the occasion

ANTI-SLAVERY We understand that Miss Sallie Hollie of New York, an Agent of the American Anti-Slavery Society, is making a lecturing tour through Maine, and will speak in this city sometime in the course of a few days She is represented as a winning and eloquent speaker If so she cannot fail of presenting her theme in an effective manner

THE "HOME SCHOOL FOR GIRLS"—situated in New Gloucester, is within an hour's ride of Portland, and five hours from Bangor—on the line of the Grand Trunk railroad It is designed as a family school—the number of pupils being limited to ten—and good rooms, wholesome and abundant food, and faithful instruction, guaranteed. Expenses $224 per year

LUMBER OPERATIONS AT MOOSEHEAD LAKE —The editor of the Jeffersonian, who has recently visited Moosehead Lake, says of the lumber business

Messrs Babb & Strickland are very extensive lumber operators, and are now almost the only "old line" firm in that business They employ annually in the winter about 100 men, and cut nearly 4,000,000 feet of lumber yearly They own a farm of 175 cultivated acres on the West Branch of the Penobscot at the terminus of the "North East Carry," which is a rude railroad, 2½ miles in length, connecting the lake with the West Branch On it they have erected a large house and barn The house is a sort of central locality for a great extent of lumber country, and is largely patronized by the passing lumbermen They will raise from this farm the present year about 1000 bushels of potatoes. From it they supply their logging camps with potatoes every day in the winter,—which is a great luxury to the crew

A GOOD MAN GONE We regret to state that Bro Cyrus Cummings of this city died Friday night, after an illness of a few weeks He was a true friend of temperance, as well as of every other cause of humanity and religion He was formerly a minister of the Methodist Church, but has not labored much in that capacity of late —Temperance Journal

THE CASE OF CAPT HOLMES Petitions are in circulation for signatures, praying the President to commute the sentence of death passed upon Capt John A Holmes

☞ Mr E E Fuller of Turner, has sued the publishers of the Temperance Journal for alleged libel, in calling him, the said Fuller, "a rumseller" He thinks the damage is about $5000

☞ The Sumner Street Church in Portland have extended a unanimous call to Rev Amos N Freeman, of Brooklyn, N Y

FRUIT FROM LINCOLN COUNTY We have received from Amos Barrett, Esq, of Rockport, in the town of Camden, a box of fine plums of several nice varieties, which grew in the plum orchard of his brother Charles Barrett, Esq He has thirty different varieties, and remarks that "his crop is rather light—but he estimates it at about one hundred bushels" We shall present his specimens to the Bangor Horticultural Society.

SUDDEN DEATH Mr. Asbel Danforth, of Corinville, died very suddenly last week, He got up in the morning in his usual health, but after doing up his chores, complained of not feeling very well. A physician was sent for, but before he arrived, Mr. D. was a corpse.—Clarion

DISTURBANCE AMONG BEES—A BEE TAMER CALLED IN —On Monday evening a bee-hive on the premises of Rev. Mr Gilman, on the corner of Essex and York streets, in the absence of the family, was attacked by some vicious boys, the cover torn off, honey stolen, and a general disturbance created among the bees, who were broken up in their home Yesterday the bees were about the neighborhood in an exasperated state, and putting the neighbors in fear of their stings Recourse was had to Mr R S Torrey, the celebrated apiarist, of Fifth street, who visited the scene, and putting the hive in repair, called the bees home, and thus allayed the terror of the neighborhood.

ARRIVAL OF FIREMEN The Eagle Engine Company, No 8 of Bangor, James M Williams, Foreman—accompanied by the Bangor Cornet Band, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, en route for the Manchester Muster They had with them their tub, a magnificent looking Button machine of ten inch cylinder They were received at the depot by a delegation of the Dirigo Fire Association, and escorted to their Hall, where they were welcomed by J F Edwards, President of the Association They made a handsome appearance as they marched up Middle street A nobler looking body of firemen cannot be produced anywhere. They took the boat last evening for Boston —Argus

☞ The Sagadahoc Agricultural Society has appointed the editor of the Bath Times one of a Committee on Swine Nothing could be more appropriate He "went the entire swine" for Manasseh, although professing to repudiate his principles.

DECLINATION We understand that J S Chadwick Esq of this city, who was appointed one of the State Valuation Committee, has declined that position Mr C is well qualified to perform the duties of the place, and the public interest would have been subserved by his acceptance

CAMDEN We are informed that Mr S D Carlton, elected Representative from Camden, and returned as a democrat, was a "citizens" nominee He is a democrat in politics, we believe

☞ We are indebted to Mr J M Fisk for Melbourne (Australia) papers received by the latest arrivals

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING —Cries of distress were heard by the inmates of the Marine Hospital on Saturday night last about 9 o'clock, which were discovered to proceed from persons in the water some distance from the shore A boat could only be procured by forcibly taking one from an inhuman person, who happened to be at the bridge, and who refused to render assistance as he said, "he was waiting to carry his brother home" This boat was taken by Dr Legg of the Hospital, who with four noble hearted sailors, started in the direction of the cries, the storm at the same time blowing almost a gale, and succeeded in rescuing a couple of gentlemen who had been capsized and were clinging to the boat—having been in the water for nearly two hours. The were so chilled and exhausted, that in a very short time longer they must have perished They were taken to the Hospital where they received such aid and relief as to enable them in a few hours to return to their homes in the city We learn that the names of these gentlemen are William A Witham and Dominicus Jordan, who were returning from the Islands and were driven out of their course by the storm —Argus

BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

TO THE

Daily Whig & Courier.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14th.

However much our Government may be impressed with the truth that the island of San Juan belongs to us, there appears to be no doubt but that both the Government of the United States and Great Britain will instruct their agents in that quarter to act with the utmost circumspection, in view of a satisfactory adjustment of existing difficulties.

It will be recollected that Sec'y Marcy 4 years ago, said that the title ought to be settled before either party should exclude the other by force, or the exercise of complete and sovereign rights within the fairly disputed points. This was the substance of his letter to Mr. Crompton at that time representing Her Majesty's government, and to which much importance is now attached. From all that can be ascertained in well informed circles it is reasonable to infer that no serious difficulties are likely to result between the two countries. If any danger at all is apprehended it is in consequence of the well known intrepid character of Gen. Harney.

Col. Hawkins of the British army, yesterday brought despatches concerning the San Juan dispute to the British Legation, and then left for N. Y., to take passage for England with despatches from Gov. Douglas to Her Majesty's government on the subject.

The news of a successful revolution in Costa Rica—being unexpected, has created much interest and surprise in official and diplomatic quarters. Senor Morna, Minister from that Republic, left to-day for New York to meet ex-President Morna.

Mr. Hendrick's resignation as Commissioner of the Land Office, takes effect to-morrow. Nothing has been heard from Judge Hughes, as to his acceptation of th office.

The President has appointed Mr. William E. Moore, of Nebraska, agent for the Indians in the Omaha agency, vice Mr. Wilson resigned.

Commissioner McBlair has been ordered to the Washington Navy Yard.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 14th.

The Democratic State Convention assembled here to-day. Immediately on the opening, a member moved that Thos. H. Alvord, of Syracuse, be the temporary chairman, which was carried, and Mr. Alvord took the chair. Intense excitement ensued. Mr. Cochran on the part of the Softs, nominated Jno. Stryker, of Rome, for the same office. A riot ensued, in which Mr. Stryker was knocked off the platform and slightly injured. Mr. Stryker adjourned the Convention, leaving the Wood men in possession of the hall. They adjourned at half past one, when the other party took possession. Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson was invited to the floor of the Stryker Convention. He made a speech which created immense enthusiasm. Adjourned till 4 P. M., at which time a resolution to appoint the delegates to Charleston at this time was introduced, when a motion was made to postpone the subject, but it was voted down by ayes 81, nays 92. A resolution was then adopted, for the chair to appoint two delegates from each judicial district, to report the names of two delegates to the Charleston Convention, from each Congressional district, and from alternatives. The vote on the adoption of this, was almost unanimous. Adjourned till 9 A. M., to-morrow.

WORCESTER, 14th.

The State Democratic Convention to-morrow bids fair to be large and harmonious. The President will be either Geo. B. Loring of Salem, or Wm. E. Parmenter of West Cambridge. The only struggle in the Convention will be on the delegates at large to the Charleston Convention. No anti-Douglas men can be elected, the tone of the Convention being decidedly in favor of popular sovereignty. The general desire for harmony at Charleston will probably prevent any decided expression in favor of any candidate.— The most prominent candidates are Oliver Stevens of Boston, Isaac Davis of Worcester, Jaules Whitney of Springfield and Wm. C. N. Swift of New Bedford. Other tickets will bear the names of John T. Heard of Boston, E. D. Beach of Springfield, Caleb Cushing of Newburyport, Isaac H. Wright of Boston. At the caucus to-night speeches were made by Ansel Phelps of Springfield, Col. Wright and Perkins Cleveland of Boston.

NEW YORK, 14th.

Gen. Scott when on the point of starting for West Point this afternoon for the purpose of examining the cadets, was summoned to Washington by a telegraphic message, and left this evening.

The Fifth-Avenue Hotel took fire this morning in the basement. There was but little damage; supposed incendiarism.

Steamship Philadelphia brings Havana advices of the 9th. There is no news of importance. The weather was still hot and the public health no better. Sugar still dull, though there had been a trifle more doing. Molasses was without operations. Freights very dull nominally; rates rule at 45 a 60 shillings per ton to the British Channel and 60 a 76 per box United States.

PORTLAND, 14th.

The cooperage of J. M. Coolbroth on Commercial street, head of Smith's wharf was completely destroyed by fire this evening. Loss from $1000 to $5000. Insured fifteen hundred. J. & D. J. Degidus's boat building shop adjoining was partially burned, but fully insured.

BURLINGTON, VT, 14th.

The Vermont State Fair attracts a large gathering. The show of horses, cattle and sheep is good. The mechanical and floral display is not large. A splendid exhibition of Howe's scales attracts great attention. Gov. Banks of Mass., delivers the address to-morrow. The fair continues Thursday and Friday.

NORFOLK, VA., 14th.

At a meeting at the Merchants' Exchange to-day a resolution was adopted to invite the Great Eastern to visit this port. The authorities of this city, Portsmouth, Richmond and Petersburg will no doubt co-operate.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 14.

The special New Orleans correspondent of the Courier reports serious injuries to the Mississippi cotton crop, from rust and ball worms.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14th.

The Rockdale flour mill, near this city, the property of Col. Geo. P. Kane, was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss $14,000, which is insured. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

FESTIVITIES IN PORTLAND.—Preparations are making for an adequate celebration of the arrival of the Great Eastern. There will be a grand procession about the fourth day after her arrival, followed by a banquet in the Grand Trunk Building, which will seat 2000 persons. A ball will take place in the new City Hall, which latter place is capable of accommodating 8000. There will be excursions in the harbor during the stay of the steamer, with fireworks and illuminations. The Great Industrial Exhibition of the Mechanics' Association will open on the 27th inst, and remain open until after the departure of the steamer. Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk Railway for excursion tickets as far as Chicago and back for $18. It is expected that the steamer will remain at Portland some weeks, and her passenger tickets will take them to Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and back.

LIFE SAVED BY A DOG. A few days since, a child of Mr. McDonald, on Elm street, about three years of age, fell into the river; and while his companion, an older brother, ran for assistance, a little dog belonging to Mr. M., plunged in after the boy and rescued him. In the struggle to bring the boy on shore, his clothes were nearly stripped from him.—Machias Republican.

The Ocean Fire Co. No. 4, of Portland, which was reported as going to the Manchester Muster, did not attend—nine members only voting to go, at the last meeting.

THE FIRE AT HALIFAX. St. John, N. B. 13th. The fire at Halifax on Friday night broke out at 9 o'clock in Hollis street near Ordinance, and extended along the entire block, destroying Mott's building, tenanted by Ackhurst, auctioneer; Simmons' stove store; H. G. Mott, spice dealer; Chamberlain's stove store; Hunter's flour store; Taylor's flour store, and Whytal's shoe store. On Granville street—Murdock's dry good store; Hesson, tailor; Webb, druggist; Rogers, hatter; Richardson, confectioner; MacKinlay, boot store; London, boot store; Wetmore, Vaux & McCullock, dry goods; McKenzie, watchmaker; Creighton & Wiswell, dry goods; Coombs, shoe shop; J. B. Bennett, dry goods; Duffee & Co., De la Torre & Raynor, Roman's stone building; Jordan's Woollen Hall; Chipman, dry goods store; Skerry, Mignowitz, Strong, N. Silver, and Billings, all dry goods stores; Robson's hat store; Creighton's book store.

On Barrington street several houses were destroyed, including the printing-offices of Blackader and J. Bowes & Son.

The total damage will probably reach one million dollars. The full particulars, nor the amount of insurance have not yet been received.

AN IMMENSE AERIAL SHIP.—The N. Y. Times contains an account of a new aerial ship, which is in course of construction, about four miles from that city, under direction of the aeronaut, T. S. C. Lowe of New Hampshire. It is designed for a trans-Atlantic voyage, and is five times larger than the largest balloon ever before built. Its dimentions are as follows:

Greatest diameter—feet,	130
Transverse diameter—feet,	104
Height, from valve to boat—feet,	350
Weight, with outfit—tons,	3½
Lifting power (aggregate)—tons,	22½
Capacity of gas envelope—cubic f't,	725000

DEATH OF LEIGH HUNT.—The genial essayist, Leigh Hunt, died in London, August 28, in the seventy-fifth year of his age, thus closing a long and illustrious life. He was the son of a clergyman, and received his education at Christ's Hospital. Even at school, before his fifteenth year, he was a poet. He studied law, but soon relinquished all ideas of practice. His brother having charge of a newspaper, Leigh was soon attracted to its columns, and thus began his literary career. As his pen was rather free, it was construed to be libelous, and the author was more than once incarcerated. He subsequently became the friend of Shelley and Byron.

☞ The one hundredth anniversary of the capture of Quebec was celebrated at Boston on Tuesday [13th]. An address was delivered by Hon. Lorenzo Sabine, in the Hall of the House of Representatives. Of Mr. Sabine's Address, the Boston Post says:

The Historical Address of Hon. Lorenzo Sabine, delivered yesterday in the Hall of the House of Representatives, was an elaborate and thorough production, characterized by the wide research and critical discrimination that marks the efforts of its author. Besides treating generally of the relations of the French war with our subsequent revolutionary history, it embraced a most interesting account of the life and character of Gen. Wolf. It is a valuable contribution to our history, and was listened to by a large audience with deep attention.

The Boston Gazette says that measures are being taken to have the Great Eastern visit Boston, after her trip to Portland. The pilots of Boston guarantee to bring her safe into the harbor.

SILVER SOAP.

A Simple Preparation for cleaning Silver Plate, Jewelry, Mirrors, Marble, &c., far more convenient and effective than any other. One-half the labor of house-cleaning may be saved by using this Soap, which cannot possibly injure the finest zinc white, and as no scrubbing is required, the saving in the wear of the paint is much greater than the cost of the soap. It leaves the surface as pure and white as when new. For sale by

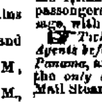
California Steamers,

Carrying the United States Mail.

5th and 20th of each month

Through Tickets, including the transit of the Isthmus via Panama R R

On account of the numerous frauds and impositions on travelers, those bound to California are cautioned to buy Tickets at the only authorized Agency of the United States Mail Line as below



By order of the Post-master General, the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from New York to Aspinwall, on the 5th and 20th of each month

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without extra expense This is the only line giving entire Through Tickets, guaranteeing no detention on the Isthmus.

Transit made in four hours, entirely by daylight, thus avoiding the great exposure by night in open boats to fever and ague, and 200 miles of dangerous lake and river navigation, over rocks and shoals

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U S. Pacific Mail Steamer, will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers, thus securing passengers by the Mail Line a sure and short passage, with the greatest comfort and safety to health

☞ Tickets must be signed by one of the Company's Agents before they will be recognized by the Agent at Panama, and tickets thus signed can be obtained of the only authorized Agent for the U S and Pacific Mail Steamship Companies, in this city

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A COMPOUND REMEDY in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens How completely this compound will do it has been proved by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints —

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES TUMORS SALT RHEUM SCALD HEAD SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX DEBILITY DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD

This compound will be found a great promoter of health when taken in the spring to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud Multitudes can by the aid of this remedy spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples eruptions or sores, cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins cleanse it whenever it is foul and your feelings will tell you when Even when no particular disorder is felt people enjoy better health, and live longer for cleansing the blood Keep the blood healthy, and all is well, but with this pabulum of life disordered there can be no lasting health Soon or later something must go wrong and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown

Sarsaparilla has and deserves much the reputation, of accomplishing these ends But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla or any thing else

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla but often no curative properties whatever Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure In order to secure their complete eradication from the system the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle

CELEBRATED REMEDIES!

Thousands who have been laid low by disease will attest to their healing powers By the use of them they have been restored to health and vigor, and their gratitude is unbounded O, could the world be wise—throw aside the poisonous and deleterious medicines they now use, which serve to reduce their physical strength, and bring on weakness and debility, and numerous other troubles—and take the long sought for medicines, which operate upon the whole system like a charm, and which are emphatically as every one who ever used them will testify—

A sovereign balm for every wound,
A cordial for our fears

O for once be wise—don t longer delay Delays are dangerous, and while you are taking the poisonous drugs, the disease may have so far progressed as to make it too late for hope Now is the time to buy and try my medicines and again to enjoy the blessings of health Try them—and you will never have cause to repent of it

New England Ailments

AND

THE ONLY REMEDY!

THE Fastern States, included in that section of the Union which is most widely known as New England, contain a thrifty, industrious, intelligent people who have achieved an uncommon degree of prosperity; with a climate extremely trying to certain constitutions and a soil of small fertility they have contrived to surpass more favored communities in almost everything that conduces to social comfort and happiness Unfortunately they are occasionally so absorbed in business and mental cultivation, that they neglect the precautions which are essential to bodily health Dyspepsia and physical debility are prevalent among all classes The first disease is produced by inattention to the digestive organs which are so susceptible of derangement Thousands are now paying the penalty of this neglect, and suffering daily the most trying pains almost without a hope of relief They have come to believe that their ailment is chronic, and that they must bear it to the end It gratifies us exceedingly to announce to these afflicted individuals that they may now command a remedy of unquestionable potency and virtue, which has never been found to fail in all cases of digestive weakness or derangement. Hundreds of tongues are ready to grow eloquent in praise of this wonderful conqueror of dyspepsia which is known as

Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

But that numerous class who devote themselves to literary and other sedentary pursuits, and in consequence of a want of physical exercise, become the victims of langour and debility without nerve or appetite, have hitherto sought in vain for some invigorating, life giving medicine, whose effects upon the system shall be both speedy and permanent. Physicians of eminence, and profoundly acquainted with the requirements of the human frame, commend Hostetter's Bitters as the safest and swiftest stimulent to the recuperative energies of the system yet discovered It restores the appetite, gives fresh vigor to the digestive organs, sends the blood through the veins with a merely current, corrects a tendency to depress on of spirits, and fits a man for the transaction of business with a cheerful heart and active mind Unlike other medicines which have been devised for the same object the BITTERS do not act spasmodically, or with a temporary power—the influence of the remedy is lasting It's patient will but give some attention to securing proper exercise, after the relief has been afforded, he need fear no return of the affliction The debility natural to the encroachments of years upon the bodily frame is also alleviated by this grand strengthening medicine, thus enabling the aged to pass their declining days in physical ease, whereas they are now suffering from extreme weakness and nervousness To this venerable class of people Hostetter's Bitters may be commended as invaluable The proprietors of this invigorator have in addition, a deep gratification in assuring Nursing Mothers that they will find the BITTERS the best and safest of restoratives Very few medicines are sanctioned by physicians as proper to be administered during the period of nursing, and this has obtained an universal preference

☞ Those who desire to purchase this great remedy for Dyspepsia and Debility should remember the precise title, Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters It is put up in quart bottles with the name Dr J Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, blown on the bottle and also stamped on the cap covering the cork with the autograph of Hostetter & Smith on the label These things are important, on account of the numerous counterfeits now in the market.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburg Pa., and also sold by all druggists grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

Sold, wholesale and retail, by B. F Bradbury and N S. Harlow, Bangor at retail by R. F Kimball, Oldtown, S. Libbey, Orono; B H Parker, Bucksport.

Scrofula or King's Evil,

IS a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body and may burst out in disease on any part of it No organ is free from its attacks nor is there one which it may not destroy The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease low living, disordered or unhealthy food impure air filth and filthy habits, depressing vices, and above all by the venereal infection Whatever be its origin it is hereditary in the constitution descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation, indeed it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter which in the lungs liver and internal organs is termed tubercles in the glands, swellings, and on the surface eruptions or sores This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases, consequent by vast numbers perish by disorders which although not scrofulous in their nature are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination, and many destructive diseases of the liver kidneys brain, and, indeed, of all the organs arise from or are aggravated by the same cause

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE OR ERYSIPELAS PIMPLES PUSTULES BLOTCHES BLAINS and BOILS TUMORS TETTER and SALT RHEUM SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD The popular belief in impurity of the blood is founded in truth for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions

Ayer's

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them—Their penetrating properties search and cleanse and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities As a consequence of these properties the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints Costiveness Heartburn Headache arising from disordered Stomach Nausea, Indigestion Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For the rapid cure of

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures that almost every section of country abound in persons publicly known who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation and where its virtues are known the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they never can forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten
